UNCERTAINTY OF FARM PRODUCTION AFFECTS PRICES

"The great underlying disturber of all calculations in the production and marketing of agricultural commodities is nature and the ravages of disease and pests."

In these words Theodore Macklin of the Wisconsin college of agriculture touches the heart of the marketing problem as it relates to agricultural production.

It is his opinion that such uncontrolled forces make farming a gamble and compel the operator to exercise faith as well as brawn and brain in the hope of winning a favorable income. These speculative uncertainties, he believes, are in large measure responsible for the low stabilized prices and controlled production for which so many farmers and their organizations are continually clamoring.

CROPS PICKING UP WITH WARMER DAYS

Considerable Corn in Rock County Will Have to Be Replanted.

Crops are making good progress in Southern Wisconsin during the revolving warmer days the last week. Much of the corn planted early will have to be replanted due to two reasons, 1—the unfavorable spring weather during the planting and sprouting period and 2—the poor seed used this year. Good seed corn was scarce this spring and much of that used lacked the strength to resist the cold and dampness. Farmers are making a decision this week on replanting.

Winter grain is reported to be backward. In most parts of Wisconsin pastures and hay are promising.

The backward conditions in Wisconsin are evident everywhere because of the cool and wet weather and retarded season.

Little buyers in Rock county this week found crops reported to be backward. In most parts of Wisconsin pastures and hay are promising.

On Saturday night the film will be shown in Beaver Dam in connection with a meeting held for considering the passage of a city milk ordinance requiring all fluid milk sold in the city be from tested herds.

With the program prepared for a fitting observance of Memorial day in Janesville on Friday, members of the Memorial day committee will hold a final meeting in the assembly room of the city hall at 7:30 Wednesday night to arrange last minute details. Instructions will be outlined by Dr. L. J. Woodworth, general chairman, and Charles Cox, marshal of the day.

The program drawn up in honor of the dead of all American wars is as extensive a one as ever carried out on a Memorial day in Janesville. It calls for a parade to the cemeteries and decoration of the graves in the morning, a parade and services in the high school auditorium in the afternoon. The Gold Star mothers will conduct exercises at the Corn Exchange at 1 p. m. and the Tank corps will have reveille and retreat at the new high school, morning and late afternoon.

Volunteer Motorists Called.—An appeal is issued for all citizens owning cars, the services of which they will devote for the occasion, to call Albert Nolt. There are a number of Civil war, Spanish-American and World war veterans and women's organizations who would like to participate in the services but cannot unless there is a whole-hearted response from the automobile owners.

All people donating the use of their cars should have them at the city hall at 8:15 a. m. for the drive to the cemeteries, and at 1:15 p. m. for the parade to the high school, the committee says.

The flower city band will lead the parade to the cemeteries in the morning and play a dirge preceding the services at the graves. In the afternoon parade, the Parker Pen band, school boys and girls bands and the veterans' drum corps, will appear.

Afternoon Parade Formation.—Formation of the afternoon parade to the high school will be at the city hall at 1:30 o'clock. The formation, as announced by Marshal Cox, is as follows:

Police department; Parker Pen band; city officials; colors; Civil war, Spanish-American, and World war, with grand veterans' drum corps; members of the G. A. R., Women's Relief Corps, Ladies of the G. A. R., Spanish War Veterans, Spanish War Veterans' Auxiliary, all in autos; high school boys' band; American Legion; Richard Ellis Post Auxiliary, in autos; Gold Star mothers, in autos; Service Star Legion, in autos; Tank corps; Salvation Army; Boy Scouts; fraternal organizations and lodges; high school girls' band; school children; and fire department.

All school children are to meet on South Academy street between Milwaukee and Pleasant streets. The program at the high school auditorium will begin upon arrival of the parade, about 2:15 p. m. Retreat will be conducted after the program.

Fourth Ward Collection.—On account of Memorial day Friday, regular garbage collection in the Fourth ward will be made Thursday.

At National Conventions.—The great presidential conventions will soon be held. The Milwaukee Journal will have its own private leased wires right in the convention hall, get all the latest, unbiased news reports immediately after they occur—in The Journal—the only politically independent newspaper available in Wisconsin.

A SONG OF SPRING
 I heard an old birdy the other day, humming to himself in roundelay, and he piped up his notes so full and clear, that he seemed to say, "Spring's most here."

The call of spring brings joy to me, it fills my soul with melody. The blue and the blue, they soon will bite, and the big-bullfrog will sing at night!

The song of the thrush makes the woodland ring, blackbirds join in the welcoming, the whippoorwill and the chicken-dee, blend right in most merrily.

Lilacs bloom in their brightest hue, cowslips yellow, and violets blue, Cranesbill blossoms and daisies sweet, and four-leaf clovers at my feet.

And so I lift up my voice in praise, in thanks to Him who gladdens me, And I vow in my heart to do my best, To prove I'm worthy of being so blessed. Samuel M. Crombie.

The shoes worn by the pope are red in color, with a cross embroidered on the front of each one.

APOLLO THEATRE

An Open Letter to The Public

I take great pleasure in announcing that on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th—all the gloomy hours, the long faces, and the sorrows of every human being living in this vicinity, will be healed by the best fun maker of the world—HAROLD LLOYD, who appears in "GIRL SHY."

I have presented quite a few photoplays, each one with its own merit. I have seen Lloyd in his famous past productions and I thought there never could be any improvement on his way of acting—in his comic parts, and thrilling situations, but I am here to tell you that Harold Lloyd in "Girl Shy" positively is the funniest, the most screaming and thrilling picture that anyone has ever witnessed. You all remember him in some of his "knock-outs" like "High & Dizzy," "Dr. Jack," "Grandma's Boy," "Safety Last"—but just wait until you see "Girl Shy" and if you don't split your sides laughing I will refund you ten times the amount you paid.

"Girl Shy" is the longest picture Lloyd ever made. All of his pictures have been from 3 to 5 reels in length. This is a 7-reel picture and in every foot of these reels there are a million laughs and a million thrills.

Comments from every press where this picture has played praised it with new words, some of them are as follows: "Oh, Boy! what a Comedy!" "A Mad, Merry Whirl of Laughter, Love and Thrills." Whatever engagements you may have during the run of this picture, I advise you to cancel, and prepare to see the biggest joy picture of your life.

Yours very truly,
JAMES ZANTAS, Manager.

No wonder it is unaffected by weather conditions—that rain only makes it harder. For Portland Cement Stucco in all essentials is Concrete. And you know how well Concrete serves in foundations, in homes, in hospitals, in mighty dams, in roads and skyscrapers.

Be sure, therefore, that you always specify stucco by the full name, Portland Cement Stucco, and get the enduring strength which that tenacious binder, Portland Cement, assures.

Architects will tell you that Portland Cement Stucco assures a home of distinction and beauty. No other exterior treatment offers such a variety of color and texture. It harmonizes perfectly with any landscape setting.

And the ideal backing for Portland Cement Stucco is Concrete Masonry—Concrete Block or Tile.

CAPTAIN FRANCIS NEWCOMBE, ex-officer in the great war, who breaks into society, but who is really a shadowy figure, noted for his various big stunts that have set London agog.

RENEVILLE, a valet, who had done some big stunts on his own account, and who is the fourth straggler.

POLLY WICKES, a flower-girl, whom Newcombe has adopted and sent to America to a finishing school, with the idea of insuring social contacts of the best before he leaves England after completing some big stunts.

DOTA MARINE, daughter of an eccentric millionaire, who is guest in a big show place on the Florida Keys, where the mad magnate, Mr. MARINE, has more than half a million dollars, the existence of which Newcombe learns inadvertently from his valet.

HOWARD LOCKE, son of a big business man, who has been in Florida on his steam yacht. He falls in love with Polly.

And then I saw you—in London—just a few days before we sailed. I followed you to your apartment, and I saw the valet—Renerville—and the flower-girl, whose name I discovered was Polly Wickes. I secured an introduction to you at your club, and I learned from you that you were sailing within a day or so on a certain ship. I told you I was sailing on the same ship. Within an hour after I had left you at your club, I had left you on the same ship. I had secured a passage on that ship, and I entered a man who was recommended to me as one of the best private detectives in England. With the knowledge that you were a criminal, it was only a question of a short time before the detective would unearth your record, or that you would be caught by the police. I was only a question of a short time before the detective would unearth your record, or that you would be caught by the police. I was only a question of a short time before the detective would unearth your record, or that you would be caught by the police.

"No," said Locke bitterly. "Where you will, you and Hummel—and Paul Cremar. We'll have no more trouble from any of you here." "Captain Francis Newcombe pushed suddenly in the net of lifting his cigarette to his lips. "This Paul Cremar, you speak of, he said, 'what makes you think he is here?' " "Because I expected him to be here," said Locke shortly. "He was one of the three of you. He could not very well form part of your retinue as Hummel did."

"My stomach suffering was so severe that I could not have lasted much longer. I did not care to leave my three little children who needed a mother's love and care. A cousin in California wrote me about May's Wonderful Remedy and I took a course of it. I have since been entirely well. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded."

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred is happy to advise mothers about the care of their children of any age, or of any subject which does not belong in the field of the doctor.

A reader writes: "I wish you could help me with my baby's bowels. He is four weeks old and never has a bowel movement unless I use a suppository, though I feel good results when I do, as his stools are normal."

Answer: "Try the injection of a spoonful of olive oil into the rectum at night, to be retained. It will send me a self-addressed and stamped envelope, and I will send you a leaflet I have on constipation."

Answer to Mrs. M. A. A.: "By the time you see this you will no doubt have read several articles on pregnancy that will help you. Your condition seems fairly normal to me. Backaches are not at all uncommon during this time. Of course you must keep in touch with your doctor and he can tell you if in your case they are abnormal. Be sure you send a specimen of urine regularly. Your probable time is June 15, or thereabouts."

Mrs. W. M. writes: "I get so much help from your column. My baby is five months old and weighs a little over 15 pounds. I give her 20 ounces of milk, 15 of water and six teaspoons of dextrin-maltose. I feed her regularly. I should like to give her half the yolk of an egg in one of her bottles. Shall I leave the dextrin-maltose out of that feeding?"

Answer: "Unless there is some indication for egg yolk, and it is being given by doctor's order, I think the baby can go several months without any additions to her diet other than orange juice and an increased quantity of milk and dextrin-maltose."

Heart and Home Problems

Letters May Be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

DEARER: Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young married woman 19 years of age. About a year and a half ago, I married a young man whom I loved dearly. My folks and also his were willing we should marry. We had hardly been married a month when he lost his job and I can truthfully say he has not brought me half a dozen reasonable pay days since.

I spoke to him kindly concerning his idleness, but he seemed not to care. I told him I was going to leave him, but he said he would support me, and I had been living with him since our marriage. He left and had been living with his folks until about three weeks ago, when his mother came to me, telling me he had bought a car and left town. He told her he was going to take his clothes to be cleaned, but he said he had no money to do so.

I have not heard from him and do not know where he is. There has been a rumor that he was in a certain town in Illinois, but I have no way of knowing that is true. I have reason to believe that he is trifling with other women. I have received no support from him for about six months. Should I divorce him? My folks and all of my friends say I should. I have never been false to him in any way and have given him a chance to prove he is a man, but by his continued untruthfulness and selfishness way he has killed my love for him entirely. It is only for the sake of my baby girl and religious belief that I hesitate to make a decision. I should be very grateful for any advice you may be able to give me.

THANK YOU.

It seems to me that divorce is the only wise course in your case. Surely a marriage like yours was not heaven-made. A young man who has failed so utterly in his duty to his wife and to his child, is worthless. Without a divorce your trouble will be with you constantly and you will not know where you stand. While if you are legally free you will be able to adjust yourself to a new life.

BLUE EYES—When you see the boy who called on you that night, speak pleasantly and if you get into conversation tell him to come to see you again some time. It may be glad to have your invitation. Remember that he is a man, but by his continued untruthfulness and selfishness way he has killed my love for him entirely. It is only for the sake of my baby girl and religious belief that I hesitate to make a decision. I should be very grateful for any advice you may be able to give me.

"For six years, winter and summer, I have enjoyed the health and beauty of the splendid condition Tanlac built me up to in 1918," declares W. H. Stearn, contracting carpenter, 1211 Oakland Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.

"Six years ago, I was a nervous, peevish, had nerves, sleeplessness, constipation, sluggish liver, dizziness, backaches and headaches had me all run-down. I was hardly eating enough to keep alive, was almost too weak to pull my saw and came near having to quit work entirely."

"Tanlac knocked out every single ailment, sent my weight up fifteen pounds and built me up so thoroughly that even now, at sixty-seven, I feel as like as I did at forty—and at work. I don't ask odds of any man. Health is a person's best friend and that's what Tanlac has meant to me."

Beauty Chats

BY EDNA KENT FORBES THICK EYELASHES

If you want luxuriously thick, long eyelashes, you must be willing to go for some months with very short, stubby ones. For clipping the lashes is a necessary part of any treatment. You must use your curved manicure scissors and keep the points out from the eyes. You must clip carefully, taking off the least bit of the ends of the hairs. It is not necessary to cut the lashes very short, but the cutting must be repeated at about fortnightly intervals for some months.

Then you must find a cream that will make the lashes grow. I see many are advertised, I know little of their value. You can use a hair tonic on the eyebrows, but not the lashes, for if it gets into the eyes it will sting and smart unbearably, perhaps even injure the eyesight. You should use only fats that you know

She had never used it herself, but she said one of her neighbors suffered just like I did, and it cured her. After I had taken four bottles the pain left my side. I had a fine appetite to eat anything that was put before me, and I began to do all my work and my washing, something I hadn't done for years. I am a dressmaker, and this last fall I began suffering with my side again, so I began taking the Vegetable Compound again. I am now in good health. LA FOLLETTE PLANS INDEPENDENT RUN; HITS COMMUNISTS tionary action a dictatorship of the proletariat which is absolutely repugnant to American ideals and to all American aspirations.

In his letter Senator La Follette quoted an official statement of the central executive committee of the workers party of the United States, which he declared "show clearly that they are seeking to use the farmer-labor party of Minnesota and other progressive organizations that have lent their names to this convention as a means of advancing their own ends."

"I have devoted many years of my life to an effort to solve the problems which confront the American people by the ballot and not by force," wrote the Wisconsin senator. "I believe that the people through the ballot can completely control their government in every branch and compel it to serve them effectively. I have fought steadily to achieve this end, and I shall not abandon this fight as long as I may live. I believe, therefore, that all progressive should refuse to participate in any movement which makes common cause with any communist organization."

Senator La Follette's letter closed with his declaration that the republican and democratic conventions which were acknowledged by his close friends as an announcement of his candidacy should the action and platforms of the two major parties fail to accomplish the changes he regards as necessary.

Text of Letter.

The text of the letter, written May 24 at Atlantic City, where the senator is recuperating from a long illness, follows:

"Hon. Herman L. Ekern, Attorney General, Madison, Wis.

"My Dear Mr. Ekern:

"I have your letter of May 15th saying that many of my friends in Wisconsin are anxious to know my attitude toward the 'farmer-labor' progressive convention' called to meet at St. Paul June 17th.

"I should not feel it incumbent upon me to declare my attitude except that my name is being used by the promoters of that convention in such a way as to convey the impression that it has my approval and as a result some of my friends in different parts of the country contemplating attending the St. Paul convention, because of these facts, I feel it my duty to state my view frankly.

Exposed Red Cause

"I have no doubt that many of those who have participated in bringing about the St. Paul convention have been actuated by the purest desire to promote genuine political and economic progress.

Nevertheless, in my judgment, the June 17 convention will not command the support of the farmers, the workers, or other progressives because those who have had charge of the arrangements for this convention have committed the fatal error of making the communists an integral part of their organization.

"The communists have admittedly entered into this political movement not for the purpose of curing, by means of the ballot, the evils which afflict the American people, but only to divide and confuse the progressive movement and create a condition of chaos favorable to their ultimate aims. Their real purpose is to establish a revolutionary dictatorship of the proletariat, which is absolutely repugnant to democratic ideals and to all American aspirations.

"This is shown by an official statement of the central executive committee of the workers party of America as follows:

"(Printed in The Daily Worker.)

"The official organ of the workers party—March 21, 1924.

"The policy which we adopt in Minnesota will be a precedent for the whole party in relation to the national farmer-labor party when that organization is finally crystallized. It is therefore important that we adopt the correct communist policy in Minnesota, as a guide to our whole party for its work inside of the farmer-labor party throughout the country.

"The workers party prides itself in being a communist party; it means that it will lead the forces which will bring about a proletarian revolution in the United States and establish a soviet form of government and the dictatorship of the proletariat.

"Central executive committee.

"C. E. Ruthenberg, secretary.

"Progressives inclined to attend the June 17th convention should also consider the statement published in The Daily Worker of May 16, 1924, by the central executive committee of the workers party of America over the signature of William Z. Foster, chairman, and C. E. Ruthenberg, executive secretary.

"In order to settle the question of whether the farmer-labor united front was a policy that a communist party should not only support but also actively engage in and in support of which it should throw all its strength, the central executive committee of the workers party submitted this question to the communist international (Moscow) with which it is affiliated as a fraternal organization.

"The view of the communist international on this question is expressed in the following cable-gram:

"Communist international considers June 17 convention a movement of the workers party, U. S. E. C. not to slacken activities preparation June 17. Utilize every available force to make St. Paul convention great representative gathering labor and left wing.

"Executive Committee, Communist International."

Under Moscow Orders.

"The communist organization in America thus acting under orders from the Communist international at Moscow will not only participate in the St. Paul convention on June 17, but has already secured a strategic position in the direction of that convention.

"C. E. Ruthenberg, the secretary-treasurer of the committee on arrangements for the St. Paul convention, is an avowed communist, and was a delegate to its third national convention, held in Chicago, December 30, 1923. All credentials for the St. Paul convention are made returnable to Ruthenberg as secretary and treasurer. He controls its funds. Joseph Dunne, son-in-law of William Z. Foster and an avowed communist, is also a member of the committee on arrangements.

"Although the national communist organization as such may be granted only five delegates in the St. Paul convention, the basis of representation adopted is binding itself to the purpose to control. Reliable information shows that a very large number of communist delegates will be present at St. Paul with duly signed credentials.

"Protests Red Admission.

"Repeating complete confidence in soundness of the deliberate judgment of the American people. I have no apprehension that the communist party can ever command any considerable support in this country. I do not question their right, under the constitution, to submit their issues to the people, but I most emphatically protest against their being admitted into the councils of any body of progressive voters. The communists stand for the substitution of the soviet form of government for the one we now have, and propose to accomplish this change through a revolution, with a class dictatorship as their ultimate aim instead of a democracy. To pretend that the communists can work with the progressives who believe in democracy is deliberately to deceive the public. The communists are antagonistic to the progressive cause and their only purpose in joining such a movement is to disrupt it.

Enemies of Progressives.

"Not only are the communists the mortal enemies of the progressive movement and democratic ideals, but under the cloak of such extremists, reactionary interests and the best opportunity to plant their spies and provocatory agents for the purpose of confusing and destroying true progressive movement.

"I have devoted many years of my life to an effort to solve the problems which confront the American people by the ballot and not by force. I believe that the people, through the ballot, can completely control their government in every branch and compel it to serve them effectively.

"Therefore, I shall not abandon this fight as long as I live. I believe, therefore, that all progressive should refuse to participate in any movement which makes common cause with the communist organization. There is no doubt that the people have come to understand that private monopoly controls the official machinery of both the democratic and republican parties. Recent public scandals, such as the war frauds, the shipping board, Trusts, and other oil houses, the veterans' bureau, the alien property custodian, the degradation of the department of justice under both democratic and republican administrations, and the endless fraud and corruption in connection with the taxation and prohibition enforcement, are but evidences of such control of party machinery by lawless and predatory interests.

Conventions Will Tell.

"The approaching democratic and republican conventions will demonstrate to the people whether either of those parties can and will purge itself of the evil influences which have long dominated them. This cannot be accomplished by merely nominating some alleged progressive and filling the platform with misleading promises. It demands the elimination of corrupt political bosses, the adoption of truly progressive principles and the repudiation of those great campaign contributors who have in the past brought up both parties.

"If this is not done, a long suffering and richly deserving people will find in the coming campaign effective means, independent of both these old parties, to take back control of their government and make it truly representative.

"Sincerely yours,

(Signed)

NEW TREATY WITH JAPAN, NEXT MOVE

Japs Willing to Withhold Citizens but Object to Bill's Wording.

Copyright 1924, by the Janesville Gazette—Special Correspondence to the Janesville Gazette.

Washington—President Coolidge, in signing the immigration bill, has committed himself to the negotiation of a new treaty with Japan which shall supersede the objectionable provisions excluding Japanese from entry into the United States.

The president had no way of separating the Japanese section of the bill from the other provisions, but he states emphatically that if he had been separated he would have disapproved the exclusion features. The only legislative remedy open to him is to proceed to a separation.

This can be accomplished by the negotiation of a formal treaty with Japan incorporating all the provisions of the so-called "gentlemen's agreement," which has been suddenly abrogated by America. Then the United States senate, by two-thirds vote, can ratify the treaty and the present law becomes inoperative so far as the Japanese section is concerned. In the present temper of the senate, a two-thirds vote would be lacking, but the United States cannot afford to omit any effort to reconstruct the damage done to relations with Japan, and the prospect of negotiation would in the interim, even if prolonged, serve as an objective which would assist in calming the bitter feelings provoked by the action of congress.

The Japanese Position
The Japanese are ready and willing to withhold their citizens from American shores and cooperate with the American immigration authorities, but they object to the language employed in the bill. The president has characterized the method of accomplishing Japanese exclusion as unnecessary and unfortunate to Japan. To wipe out the offense, diplomacy begins work at once. While immigration is a domestic matter so far as the absolute right of a nation to regulate who shall enter and who shall not enter territory, the United States itself has applied in international discussions the principle that a domestic question may have international aspects and that no nation which respects the good will of another nation deliberately insists on the exercise of domestic rights when there is an alternative available which does not offend another nation.

A Mexican Situation
Perhaps the most striking instance of this principle was in the recent negotiations between the United States and Mexico. The new Mexican constitution contained a provision which practically confiscated the property of foreigners. The government of Mexico insisted upon this constitution without interference from the outside was conceded, but the United States argued that in the interests of unity, the liberal rights of Mexico should not be insisted upon. Finally, a treaty had to be negotiated and it has since been ratified by both countries, whereby a commission adjusts the differences arising out of application of Mexico's constitution.

The Japanese feel the same way about the domestic phases of immigration. They do not argue against America's rights in the matter, but insist that the international aspects should be a subject for negotiation between the two governments. On the face of it, the United States would have nothing to give in a treaty negotiation except less objectionable phrases, but on the other hand, the United States will find it necessary to ask for much in return, namely, Japanese co-operation in enforcing the exclusion. Under the gentlemen's agreement, Japan has really helped to keep Japanese out of America.

The Treaty Method
Now, no such responsibility exists as the agreement has been abrogated. All the machinery of enforcement must rest with America. It is this which the United States can seek in a treaty negotiation. The executive branch of the government here is committed also to a policy of friendship with Japan. So long as the treaty method remains as a possible solution, the department of state is obviously impelled to move to it, though, to be sure, in the immediate future the chances of ratification would be slight. In time a charged public opinion and a desire to avert an ultimate clash with Japan may bring ratification by the American senate. For it is not yet realized in congress how seriously the affront to Japan will be regarded by the whole subject of relations with the Far East.

Some day the peace advocates who have been working for an amicable solution of the controversy with Japan, particularly the churchmen, will have the ear of the senate and a change may then be expected. For, as the president says, Japanese exclusion is not the issue but the method of its adoption—a discriminatory piece of legislation aimed at a single nation.

Finishing 50 Pct.
of Excavation for Pleasant St.

Approximately 50 per cent of the excavation and grading for the paving of Pleasant street, from Points to Oak Hill avenue, had been completed up to noon Wednesday and prospects are that the job will be ready for paving some time next week. The work has proceeded as far east as Chatham street.

The work is proceeding at an unusually fast pace, a giant steam shovel operating continuously. The machine has a heavy iron shovel of one-half cubic yard capacity, which fills the dump wagons by dumping in two loads. The 10 teams on the job are kept constantly moving, so rapidly does the machine operate. The machine hauls along its own platform and the shovel is armed with heavy points which are sufficient to loosen up the material without any work with pick axes or planes.

Behind the excavating equipment is the grading machine, establishing the sub-grade. The surplus material is being hauled out vacant lots and side streets where filling is desirable.

The house was beautifully decorated in golden robes, ferns, many variegated flowers and golden candles. The favors were golden flowers, ribbon and ferns. Vocal and instrumental music was given during the reception.
